ABOUT NUH CHILDREN'S FUND

NUH Children’s Fund supports children undergoing treatment at the Khoo Teck Puat – National University Children’s Medical Institute (KTP-NUCMI), the paediatric arm of the National University Hospital and principal teaching facility of the Department of Paediatrics of the Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore.

The focus of KTP-NUCMI’s academic, research and clinical programmes is to find better ways to assess, manage and treat paediatric conditions to enable our young patients to realise their fullest potential and achieve their best in health and in life.

Philanthropic support provides us with the extra assistance to excel in what we do – provide the best possible outcomes for our young patients. Your support will help to change the future of these young lives in Singapore.

Your Gift Matters!

Twins Ben* and John* were born prematurely at 26 weeks, resulting in Bronchopulmonary Dysplasia.

Apart from long-term follow-up with a Paediatrician, the condition also requires the use of home care equipment. This has been financially challenging for their single mother, who has to see to their needs and is unable to work.

Your support has helped to cover Ben’s and John’s medical expenses, providing much relief to the family.

“I am truly blessed to get help from all the donors who have contributed. It hasn’t been an easy journey caring for my two boys but the help I’ve received has definitely lifted some weight off my shoulders!”

- Ben and John’s mother
