LOCAL VENUES COME ALIVE

Packled schedule daily under strict measures albeit mostly without fans

Kimberly Koeak, Laura Chia, David Lee and Nazari Abdul Aziz

For the first time in months, sport has come alive at local shores. There will be a drip of fans thrown into the mix at the two top-flight football events taking place, albeit under strict measures to reduce the spread of the coronavirus.

In this action-packed week, ju-tations include the resumption of the S-League at the Singapore National Stadium, the last domestic league to resume, and the SEA Games high jump final on Thursday. The event will also see the return of the National Under-23 football team.

The Singapore Under-23 team will play two matches against Thailand and Vietnam in the SEA Games. The team will be led by coach Kenji Sato, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Local football fans will be able to watch the matches live on TV.

Meanwhile, the Singapore Senior National Team will play against the Philippines in an international friendly match on Thursday. The match will be played at the Singapore National Stadium and will be the first official match for the team since the pandemic began.

The team will be led by coach Allan Batey, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Keep sport safe

ATHLETICS

Standard Chartered Singapore Marathon 2021

Date: 2 December 2020

For the first time in months, sport has come alive at local shores. There will be a drip of fans thrown into the mix at the two top-flight football events taking place, albeit under strict measures to reduce the spread of the coronavirus.

In this action-packed week, ju-tations include the resumption of the S-League at the Singapore National Stadium, the last domestic league to resume, and the SEA Games high jump final on Thursday. The event will also see the return of the National Under-23 football team.

The Singapore Under-23 team will play two matches against Thailand and Vietnam in the SEA Games. The team will be led by coach Kenji Sato, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Local football fans will be able to watch the matches live on TV.

Meanwhile, the Singapore Senior National Team will play against the Philippines in an international friendly match on Thursday. The match will be played at the Singapore National Stadium and will be the first official match for the team since the pandemic began.

The team will be led by coach Allan Batey, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Keep sport safe

ATHLETICS

Standard Chartered Singapore Marathon 2021

Date: 2 December 2020

For the first time in months, sport has come alive at local shores. There will be a drip of fans thrown into the mix at the two top-flight football events taking place, albeit under strict measures to reduce the spread of the coronavirus.

In this action-packed week, ju-tations include the resumption of the S-League at the Singapore National Stadium, the last domestic league to resume, and the SEA Games high jump final on Thursday. The event will also see the return of the National Under-23 football team.

The Singapore Under-23 team will play two matches against Thailand and Vietnam in the SEA Games. The team will be led by coach Kenji Sato, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Local football fans will be able to watch the matches live on TV.

Meanwhile, the Singapore Senior National Team will play against the Philippines in an international friendly match on Thursday. The match will be played at the Singapore National Stadium and will be the first official match for the team since the pandemic began.

The team will be led by coach Allan Batey, who has set his sights on winning a medal in the tournament.

Keep sport safe

ATHLETICS

Standard Chartered Singapore Marathon 2021

Date: 2 December 2020

For the first time in months, sport has come alive at local shores. There will be a drip of fans thrown into the mix at the two top-flight football events taking place, albeit under strict measures to reduce the spread of the coronavirus.

In this action-packed week, ju-tations include the resumption of the S-League at the Singapore National Stadium, the last domestic league to resume, and the SEA Games high jump final on Thursday. The event will also see the return of the National Under-23 football team.