Diagnosed with Anorexia Nervosa, Darlene requires Art Therapy as a form of treatment.

This has placed a strain on Darlene's family's finances as Art Therapy is not covered by Medifund. Her parents earn a modest income and have to support Darlene and three other siblings who are still schooling. In addition, one of Darlene's older siblings also had to undergo Art Therapy for an eating disorder.

Thanks to your generous support, Darlene is able to undergo treatment to manage her condition and be on the road to recovery.

"My family and I are very grateful for the support and generosity of the donors and well-wishers! Darlene and her sister have blossomed into confident young ladies after the art therapy and the elder sibling has also aced her N Levels and is currently pursuing community care in ITE!"

- Darlene's mother

Your Gift Matters!

Everyone deserves a chance at rebuilding a healthier, better tomorrow. In commemoration of National University Heart Centre, Singapore (NUHCS)' 15th Anniversary, the inaugural Charity Golf and Dinner Event was held on 7 July 2023, with President Tharman Shanmugaratnam, then Senior Minister and Coordinating Minister for Social Policies, gracing the dinner. More than S$1.2 million was raised in support of financially disadvantaged heart patients in their journey towards better heart health, and a hopeful future. Over 250 distinguished guests including former MP Lee Bee Wah, esteemed golfers and major donors came together to support the national centre's ongoing efforts in meeting Singapore's growing healthcare needs.
