Mastuatina suffered from symptomatic critical aortic stenosis and required a transcatheter aortic valve replacement implant (TAVI) surgery to treat this life-threatening condition.

Symptomatic critical aortic stenosis is a serious progressive condition where the heart's aortic valve narrows, resulting in disruption of normal blood flow and the weakening of heart muscles - eventually leading to heart failure if left untreated.

Being the main breadwinner and caregiver for her mother undergoing cancer treatment and requiring frequent follow-ups, Mastuatina needed support in managing the full cost of the TAVI surgery.

Thanks to the support of donors, Mastuatina successfully underwent the TAVI surgery and is on the road to recovery.

"I'm grateful and thankful for all the financial assistance given. Thank you to all in the Singapore community!"

Juggling hectic study schedules amid the evolving COVID-19 situation and a fundraiser may seem daunting to many, yet this did not deter Arthena, Yifei and their friends from Raffles Institution from fulfilling their desire to help the underprivileged.

A month into planning for a bake sale fundraiser to be held in school, they were instructed to shift to home-based learning until further notice – providing convenient reason to give up their fundraiser.

Instead, the team pivoted to a fully online fundraising campaign called Project Aurora as they knew that every donation will support patients and their families, no matter the amount. They made use of platforms such as Instagram and Giving.sg to create content for raising awareness and engaged their peers to do their part in raising funds for the financially disadvantaged paediatric patients.

Their perseverance and resourcefulness paid off; in a short span of two weeks, they raised a total of $3,590 for the financially disadvantaged paediatric patients!

“It is especially during these uncertain times that we decided that we should still do our part to help raise awareness of NUH Children’s Fund and alleviate the financial burden for some of the financially disadvantaged young patients. No matter the effort, however big or small, can create a riptide. Even when the going gets tough, remember that your kindness goes a long way.”
